Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor's Message from the Desk

"Yes, people need food and education. But one of the cornerstones of any society is a well-functioning legal system."

- Cherie Blair

As we all know, our society is both the means and end of the constant changes happening around us. The spectrum of this unstoppable change encompasses various aspects of our lives, such as science and technology, culture, employment, administration, healthcare, and more. The 'Education Sector' is no exception. Education has always been regarded as the backbone of a nation, as it serves society in the best possible way. I will be more than happy to witness how the stakeholders of this University, equipped with the trinity of Knowledge, Wisdom, and Skills, will strive to serve society and the world.

As an academician and administrator, I am confident that they, as potential leaders and torchbearers of our times, will fulfil their duties and engage in transformative actions accordingly. I also take this moment to wholeheartedly congratulate all the students on passing their respective exams. It gives me immense pleasure to extend my best wishes to both students and teachers alike for their future endeavours.

Best wishes.
